I took it and it was helpful. I feel as if i had an advantage for the first semester. Then after that it was like everyone caught up. So, i would recommend it if you are not a traditional first year law student and you are concern about staying at par with your peers. The problem is the cost and financial aid doesnt cover it.

Understood. I appreciate your advice. I'm gonna look into the class and try to register for the summer. I'll post my thoughts and impression of the class once i experience the class.
